DEDICATION

The KEY Staff of 1960 has chosen to dedicate this yearbook to a person whose efforts toward realizing a synthesis of faith and knowledge are untiring -- Dr. Leo L. Nussbaum, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

Dean Nussbaum's personal record of achievements attest to the fact that true scholarship and Christian faith are in slight, if any disagreement. Dr. Nussbaum's enviable academic record, however, does not point out his major accomplishment which is difficult to categorize or classify. That is his unceasing effort to bring intellectual enlightenment and religious concern to those who have sought his guidance and teaching. In him one quickly notes the rare blend of confidence and humility, objectivity and faith, achievement and ambition, independence and concern. For bringing these rare combinations to our campus and, furthermore, for imparting them to all within his compass, we, as educated Christians, are thankfully indebted.

The Motions of Today . . .

The Memories for Tomorrow

This school year has been eventful -- both on our campus and on the national scene. Energy, excitement, fun, and serious work have made the year memorable.

Here at the University of Dubuque, motion of the mind, body, and spirit vibrates throughout the classrooms, laboratories, dorms, and campus each day.

Both the students from the College of Liberal Arts and the Seminary stream down ever-widening paths to knowledge, happiness, maturity, and wisdom. These students from all parts of the world with their well-trained faculty combine to create energy and motion in their classrooms.

A whirl of activity surrounds the campus as students join with their advisors and counselors in pursuing common interests found in extra-curricular activities.

Bubbling elation, expressed by cheers and enthusiasm, propels athletes from every sport to their common goal, to do the best job possible.

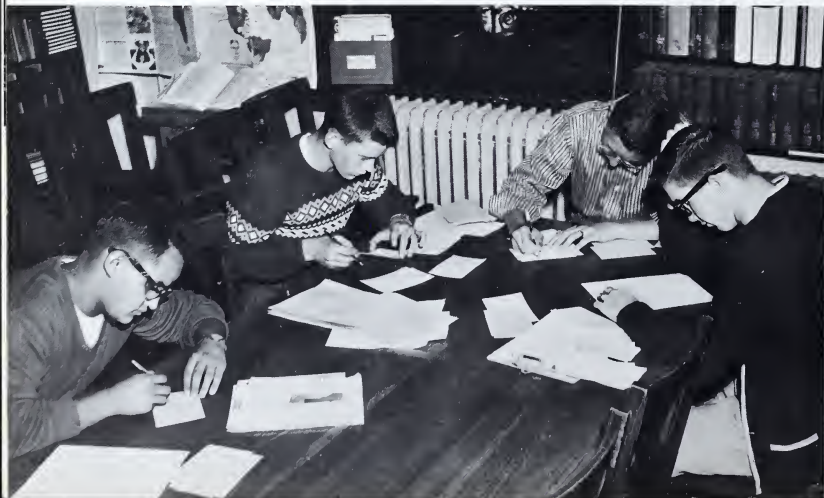

New additions to the campus in the form of new buildings and fine improvements of the ones already there keep our University moving forward.

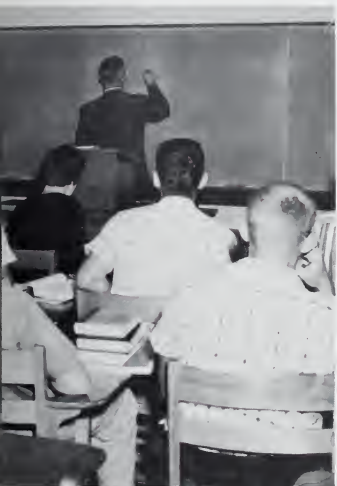

The 1960 KEY is a record of the University of Dubuque, its people, and its activities in . . .

Motion

Excitement and activity whirl through the corridors of the class buildings. Students are constantly in a state of motion, whether taking books from a locker, strolling down the hall with a group of friends, or rushing to arrive at class before the bell rings. Through their association with professors, textbooks, research material and classmates, the students become familiar with literary and scientific achievement, with people of other nations and with skills valuable for use in future years.

Seminary students relaxing before class

College students going to chapel at Westminster Presbyterian Church

Religious emphasis on the Dubuque campus takes its form in many ways: the number of ministers on the faculties of the College and the Seminary, weekly chapel services, Faith and Life Week, and the various religious organizations on campus.

New student picnic song fest

A dominant phase of a student's life, extra-curricular activities create unceasing enjoyment and interest. Homecoming, musical activities, May Fete, mixers, dramatic presentations, and varied club meetings draw students to their projects both during and after school hours. Designed for student enjoyment and interest, clubs and activities help acquaint the participants with projects that might be similar to ones they will encounter later -- on the job and in the community.

Some of the happiest moments at the U. of D. result from sharing in campus activities.

Trying to win a prize at a May Fete Booth

Fighting for the Blue and White, spectators and players dynamically display the moving spirit of the University of Dubuque. The athletes of the U. of D. strive to gain honor, bringing pride to the school, to its teams, and to its students. They spend long hours developing their bodies and their prowess for athletic contests.

A surging roar of voices accompanied spectacular football wins, an exciting basketball season, and the many activities of the other individual sports for both the skilled and not-so-skilled.

The lives and activities of the people of the University of Dubuque are interesting as well as varied.

Their activities can range from informal "bull sessions," to getting one's daily mail, to proceeding down an aisle in a formal academic procession.

The University of Dubuque constantly striving to fulfill it's goal--to serve the whole church and the world.

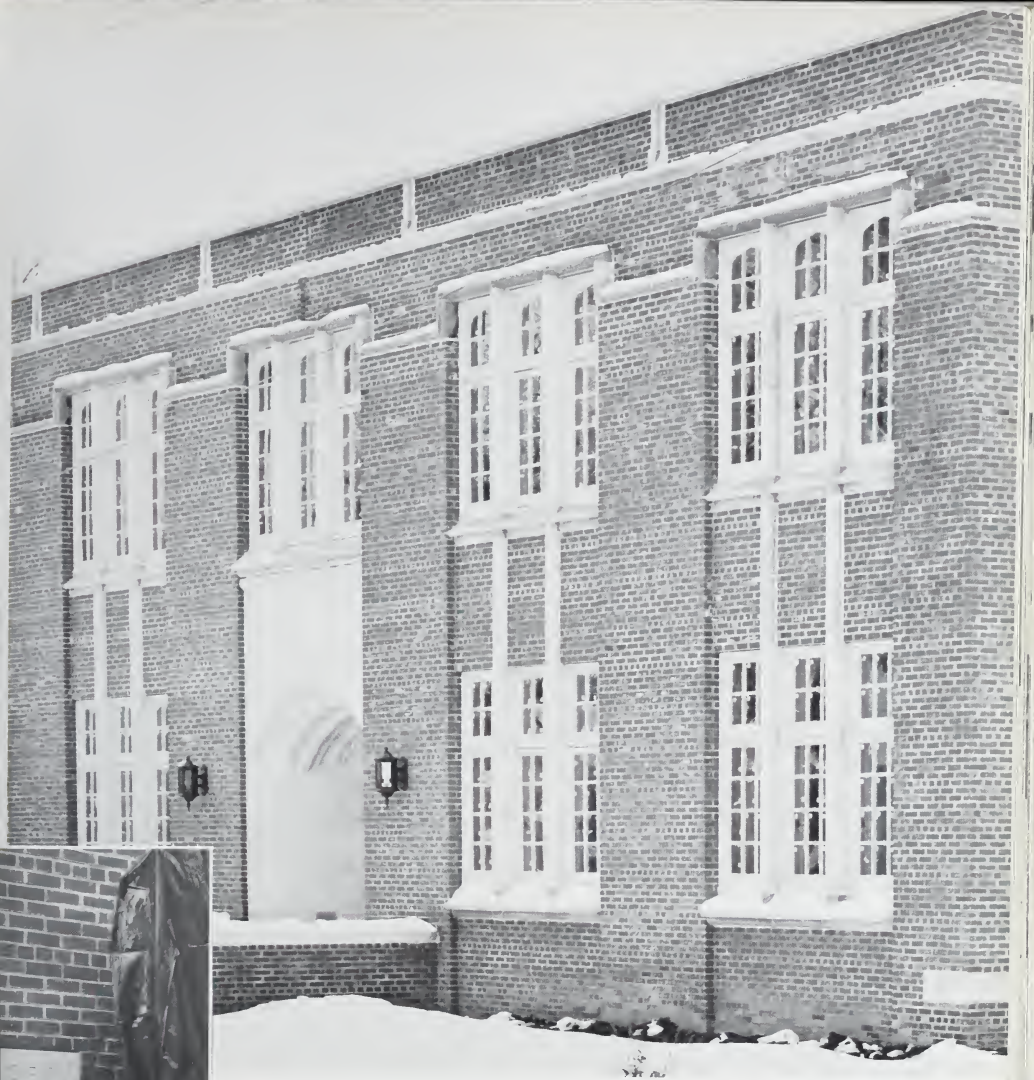

In the wake of the gold rush of 1849 the Mississippi River became the dividing line between civilization and the frontier. The river towns became the jumping off points for thousands of immigrants and settlers flocking to the fertile prairies of the Mid-west. To Reverend Adrian Van Vliet, one of these first immigrants, the University of Dubuque owes its existence.

From its beginnings in the private study of our founder, the school has constantly grown, serving the aims of uniting our diverse population under one goal.

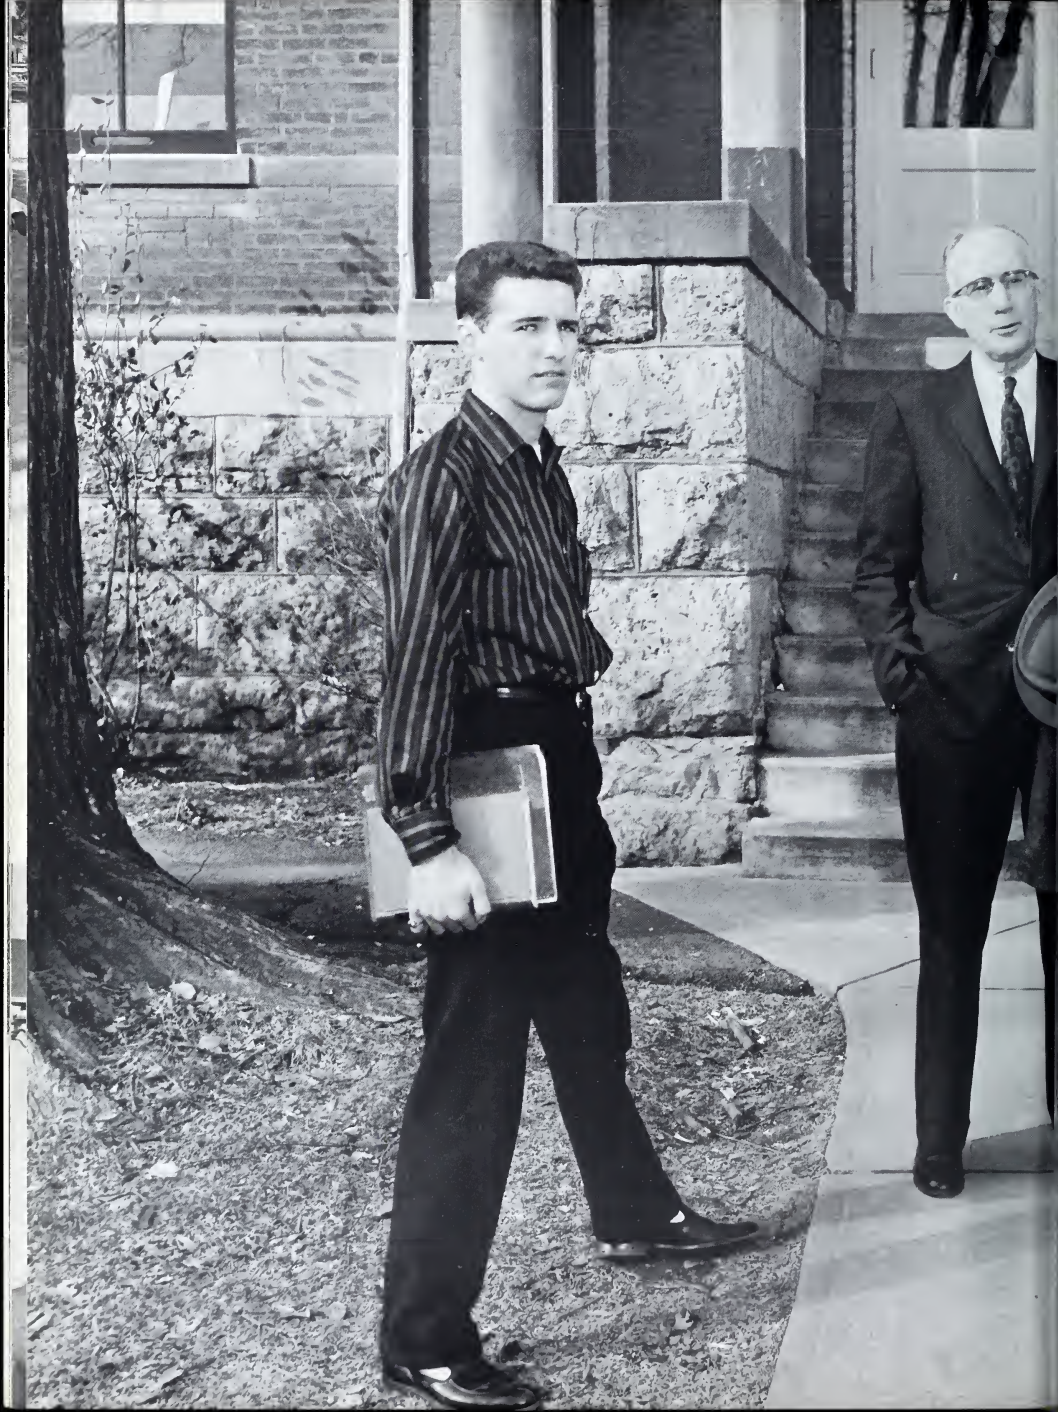

The newest addition to the campus is Goldthorpe Science Hall which was constructed as a result of a challenge gift of Mrs. Effie Goldthorpe.

Goldthorp Science Hall

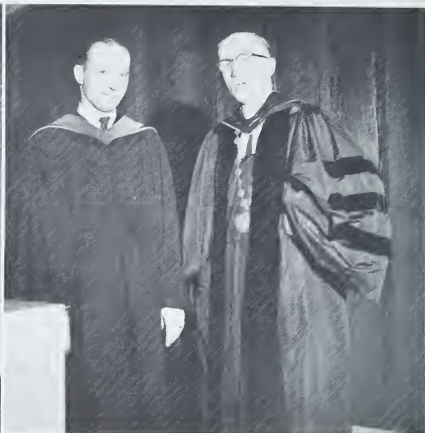

Goldthorp Science Hall, a product of the dreams of many people, was dedicated April 29, 1960--another proof that the campus is expanding and moving in a forward motion.

Pres. Couchman talks with Rev. Robert MacAskill, Pastor, Gettysburg Presbyterian Church.

At President's Reception, students enjoy the informality.

Dr. Gaylord M. Couchman has been exemplary in serving as president of the University of Dubuque since 1953.

His background includes graduation from Des Moines University, a Bachelor of Divinity degree from McCormick Theological Seminary, and a Doctor of Divinity Honorary Degree from the University of Dubuque. Pastorates throughout his native Iowa, including several years at Westminster Presbyterian in Dubuque, have ably prepared him for the many duties at the University.

President Couchman is favorably recognized throughout the nation and state, having been elected to important positions in college related organizations and in the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

At the University of Dubuque, Dr. Couchman's friendly smile invites leisurely chats. His deep concern for individuals prompts counsel with any of the students or faculty.

President Couchman takes time for family life, too. The Couchman's are the parents of three daughters and a young son. They have two grandchildren.

Mr. David B. Cassot, Vice-Chairman, Board of Directors; Mr. Harry Turner, Treasurer of the University of Dubuque; Rev. William Tjoden; Dr. William B. Zuker; Mr. A. D. Dannell, Chairman, Board of Directors; Dr. Gaylord M. Couchman; Mrs. Robert W. Clewell; Mr. Robert F. Loetscher, Vice-Chairman, Executive Committee; (Not Present - Dr. Paul J. Laube, Mr. Ivan Carnes, Rev. George H. Swolve)

The Executive Committee

The Executive Committee is delegated to study and make rulings concerning problems that occur between the two meetings of the larger group -- the University Board of Directors. The Executive Committee meets each month to examine administrative policies and review the monthly financial report of the University.

Much work and planning ahead for Dr. Couchman, Chairman Dannell, and Mr. Cassot.

Dr. William B. Zuker has completed his thirty-ninth fruitful year at the University of Dubuque and his thirty-first as vice-president.

Dr. Zuker's primary responsibility is administering student accounts. Related to this is his duty of keeping the University loan fund. He always considers each individual personally.

He received his Bachelor of Science from Highland Park College and his Masters of Science from the University of Chicago.

This year, Dr. Zuker saw a dream come true. As chairman of the Science Building Committee and former head of the Science Division, he has delighted in the erection and use of Goldthorpe Science Hall.

Having graduated from both the College and the Seminary of the University of Dubuque and having had several executive positions at the University, Mr. Gene Siekmann is highly qualified to administer financial promotion which has been his primary objective since 1956.

Mr. Siekmann travels far and wide to talk to industry, schools, churches, and individuals. He is concerned with helping alumni and friends of the University to understand how they can support the school.

Especially this last year, Mr. Siekmann has been responsible for raising additional capital for constructing new buildings such as the Science Hall.

Mr. Siekmann and Dr. Zuker, vice-presidents of the University, as they stand atop the newly erected Science Hall.

The responsibility of balancing the budget of the University is given to the Business Manager, Harry A. Turner. His various duties also include the direction of the payments to self-help workers.

Mr. Turner became Business Manager in 1953 after holding other positions in the University. He came to Dubuque in 1945.

A graduate of Park College, he has a Bachelor of Divinity degree from McCormick Seminary.

The "image" of the University in the minds of the many "publics" is the concern of James Batt, Director of Public Relations. He is also a part-time instructor in the college.

He comes to us from the University of Wisconsin where he was enrolled in a Ph.D. program in mass communication research.

As Director of Public Relations, he works in various capacities including chairman of the publications committee and faculty advisor to the Cue and the Key.

Emery Ransford, Cashier and Bookkeeper, confers with his assistant, Mrs. Richard Hirsch.

New Students

School Photographer

A student who is active in many campus activities (although pictured here-in very few times) is John Cax, student photographer. Cax did the greatest amount of the photography for the 1960 KEY and at the same time was working for both the QUE and Public Relations.

Cax is an active member of Chemistry Club, Thirteeners Fraternity, Inter-Fraternity Council, and is on the Golf team.

Finley nurses in Biology Laboratory: Jane Retallick, Judy Cata, Janet Pierce, Shirley Klinger, Joyce Miller, Mary Biere, Lois Schrunk, Betty Ellis, Marianne Engelke, Delores Lange.

Finley Nurses

In addition to their classwork and floor duty at Finley Hospital, first year students at the Finley School of Nursing spend part of their day in University classrooms. Here they study anatomy, physiology, chemistry, micro-biology, and English. Last year for the first time the student nurses took two of their classes: sociology and psychology with a section of college students.

Student nurses are encouraged to take part in University social life and often sponsor mixers in their own recreation room at Finley.

Janet Pierce, Marianne Engelke, and Joyce Miller leave the Biology laboratory to return to their duties at Finley Hospital.

Rosemary Shumaker and Lourie Ruddlesdin leave Delhi House to go to class.

Town students as well as students who choose to live off campus are important to the U. of D. Although they do not live in campus dormitories, many of them take an active part in campus life.

Student Life

In addition to Steffens Hall and Severance Hall which house the greatest majority of the students, there are men living upstairs in University House and women living at Delhi House. Delhi House is a new residence this year.

John Shoff and Terry Larson, who live at University House, check over some study notes.

RIGHT: Jerry Hougén, Art Miller and Stuart Scheppele, town students, arrive at school on Monday morning.

Organizations

CHEERLEADERS: Dottie Engels, June Malek, Morge Stephenson, Liz Collisson, and Pat Edelen.

Spartan Club

Enthusiasm -- school spirit -- student morale. These are the ideals which the SPARTAN CLUB attempts to develop throughout the year. Recognizing a need for such an organization on campus, a few students organized SPARTAN CLUB several years ago. Since then it has become known as the leading pep-promoting organization on campus.

SPARTAN CLUB undertook the responsibility for providing transportation to football games at Simpson and Upper Iowa. The club sponsored a fun night including swimming, dancing, and a volleyball game between the "Severance Sexies" and the "Solid Spartans" in November.

One of the club's biggest responsibilities consists of organizing pep rallies before each athletic event. Gaily designed posters which decorate the halls and inspire the student body are another project of the organization.

Women's Athletic and Recreational Association

Relaxation and recreation -- these are the key ideals of WARA. This organization provides organized athletics for women and offers an opportunity to build good character. To open the new school year, WARA sponsored a play night for all the University girls. During October and November the girls were in charge of the interclass basketball games.

In the spring, awards were presented at the Awards Convocation to winners of the various sports.

Members from each sorority and fraternity form a committee to discuss the "Rush Season," Presentation Ball, and "Greek Day."

Inter-Fraternity Council

Through the INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL, the fraternities plan their major activities for the year.

In February the COUNCIL met with "prospective Greeks" at the beginning of the Rush weeks in order to acquaint them with the functions and purposes of fraternity life.

During March and April the COUNCIL supervised the inter-fraternity athletic program. The "Inter-fraternity Sports Trophy" is presented to the group which wins the athletic series.

Panhellenic Council

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL functions as a coordinating body for the sororities and exercises its authority in matters of pledging, rushing, and sorority activities.

It sponsored the annual fall tea in Jacob Canzett Lounge in November, held an all-sorority game night in the gym, and organized the rushing and pledging activities in the spring.

Severance Hall House Council

The governing body of Severance Hall, HOUSE COUNCIL, sponsors three main activities throughout the year.

In October, invitations were sent to students, faculty, parents, and friends inviting them to Severance Hall open house.

A Christmas party for the dormitory and town girls proved to be fun for all.

The COUNCIL served a spring breakfast to the women residents to round-out the year's living together.

Steffens House Council

The members of STEFFENS HOUSE COUNCIL, advised by Mr. Gerald Middents have ruled over Steffens Hall this year. Members of the COUNCIL include the officers, proctors, head resident, and representatives of the dormitory areas.

This year the COUNCIL sponsored a drive for a Thanksgiving Basket and an all-dormitory Christmas party. At the party the men presented Mr. and Mrs. Middent's baby with a gift. The COUNCIL also sponsored the acquisition of a milk machine for the dormitory.

At the monthly meetings the COUNCIL dealt with dormitory problems and a fining system was set up this year.

Student Senate

The STUDENT SENATE was founded for the purpose of facilitating better communication and cooperation between the student body and the administration. Through this organization the students are allowed to participate more actively in the affairs of government and administration on their campus. The STUDENT SENATE is affiliated nationally with the U. S. National Student Association.

The STUDENT SENATE is concerned basically with the following activities: Homecoming in October, Christmas decorations in the Commons in December and May Fete in May. In addition, the SENATE has reorganized New Student Days, has concerned itself with television facilities, cafeteria lines, and school spirit.

Executive Committee of the STUDENT SENATE: Nancy Carlson, Michael Weatherbee, and Bruce Sayers plan a meeting's agenda.

Sandi Nelson, Paul Middents, Martha Lindquist, Ruth Van Putten, Jack B. Kimple, chairman, Jay Barfels, Jahn Neve, Dave Mackenzie.

College Judicial Committee

The COLLEGE JUDICIAL COMMITTEE was organized in the school year of 1957-1958. The purpose for the organization is to give students who have been charged with various violations contrary to University Policy the right to be tried by their peers rather than by members of the faculty.

The members of the Committee are elected from the college classes -- freshmen representatives are chosen at the end of the first semester. The chairman is also a member of the Student Senate. The Committee has its own attorney, Don Carten.

Alpha Pi Omega

Alpha Pi Omega, the local honorary scholastic fraternity, has as its purpose the promotion of scholarship among the students in the College of Liberal Arts. This is a local organization with membership limited to juniors and seniors with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.2. The total membership may not exceed 15 per cent of the number in the graduating class in any one year.

The organization held its formal initiation services in February for the new members elected at that time. The new members were honored at a banquet.

Phi Alpha Theta

Phi Alpha Theta recognizes academic achievement especially in the field of history, and encourages scholarship on campus. Membership in the organization requires high local and national academic achievement.

Dr. Nussbaum was the featured speaker at the first meeting of the year. He lectured on "The Educational System of India." Movies on phases of Japanese life were presented at the next meeting. Dr. Mihelic and Dr. Cochrane spoke on "Austria Today" and "Germany Today" respectively. The special project of the organization this year is a compilation of the Annals of the University.

Alpha Psi Omega

The Delta Zeta chapter of Alpha Psi Omega is an honorary dramatic fraternity for the purpose of providing an honor society for those doing a high standard of work in dramatics. Members of this group take leadership in the various dramatic productions on the campus.

One of the big projects of ALPHA PSI OMEGA was the repainting of the Campus Lane Theater.

A portion of the interested students who attended the fall dramatic meeting.

Alpha Psi sponsored production of Berthold Brecht's "He Who Says Yes" and "He Who Says No" which was given in chapel.

D Club

D CLUB is composed of all the athletes who have been awarded a letter for participation in any sport sponsored by the University.

In the fall, D CLUB printed and sold football programs for the home games. The annual Homecoming Dance was sponsored by the group. In November, the D Club sponsored an unusual dance, a "Beatnik Ball." Basketball programs were provided and the spring award assembly was conducted by the organization.

Pi Kappa Delta

The National Honorary Forensic Fraternity, PI KAPPA DELTA, honors students who are outstanding in speech activities.

This year various members participated in speech tournaments at Iowa State Teacher's College, Bradley University, Cornell College, and Grinnell College. They tied for first place at Cornell.

The members also helped with the high school speech tournament which was held on the U. of D. campus.

Who's Who In American Colleges And Universities

Having met the basic requirements of good scholarship, participation, leadership, citizenship, service, and promise of future usefulness, ten juniors and seniors were elected to WHO'S WHO after being considered by both the faculty and the Student Senate. Four juniors and six seniors received this honor.

Adrian Singers

"Young Men of Song" as the ADRIAN SINGERS are called, were directed for the third year by William Thomas. Their tour manager was Gene Siekmann and their musical advisor was Kenneth Nielsen.

This year the ADRIAN SINGERS sang for both the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Dubuque Management Club.

The singer's annual tour, beginning on January 22 and lasting for ten days, took them to Wisconsin, Illinois, (including many concerts in the Chicago area) and Indiana.

It is estimated that the group appeared before a total of 30,000 people during the tour. They visited service clubs, church groups and high schools singing a total of twenty-five concerts.

Chapel Choir

"Praise and Adoration in Song" -- this is the motto of the CHAPEL CHOIR. Their purpose is to lead the congregation in song, to assist the pastor in worship, and to sing to the glory of God. Throughout the year the CHAPEL CHOIR, under the direction of Dr. Rosemary Clarke, has aided in the chapel services at Westminster Church. The choir also presented musical programs in the Dubuque area.

Concert Choir

The Dubuque CONCERT CHOIR ended its 1959 season with a mid west spring tour and the production of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta H.M.S. Pinafore.

During the 1959-60 season Mr. Nielsen, director of the choir, used a smaller choir which sang a greater variety of music including some works accompanied by string quartet. The production of two operas "Down in the Valley" and "The Telephone" was one of the high-lights of the year.

This year the choir appeared in concert in Eastern United States and Canada, at University functions, at Dubuque civic groups, and in regular radio broadcast on "The Joyful Sound."

Music Educators National Conference

To inform future music teachers of some of the special problems which will be facing them as music teachers is the purpose of MENC.

Their monthly meetings have included programs which further this purpose. Dr. LeRay Giles and two student teachers discussed "Teaching in a Music Program," for one meeting. At another, the music instructor from Wahlert High, John Oerhrlie, gave a talk on "Starting a Music Program in a New High School." The MENC also had a meeting where music camps were discussed and described.

The main project of the MENC for this year was to find the names of all music alumni in an attempt to establish an alumni association.

Symphony Orchestra

The purpose of the University of Dubuque Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Parviz Mahmoud, is to furnish a link between the Orchestra of the University and the community of Dubuque. It is composed of students, faculty, towns-people, and out-of-town musicians. Dr. Mahmoud directs the orchestra this year for the third year.

A highlight in the year's activities was a concert featuring Stuart Canin, head of the Violin Department at the State University of Iowa.

University personnel in the orchestra are: Dr. Doy Baker, Phillip Baird, Carolyn Brook, Lorene Butler, Mary Couchman, Donna Sue Denton, Paul Fox, Julie Fuller, Ronald Luchsinger, Mr. Kenneth Nielsen, Richard Perry, Marilyn Roelle, and Monica Thomas.

Former University students who are members are: Betty Boyd, Lewis Davis, William Davis, and Lois Fox.

Symphonic Wind Ensemble

Music--Music--Music. The SYMPHONIC WIND ENSEMBLE continually provides music for school activities such as football games, and other athletic events. Each year the organization presents public concerts of varied band literature. Another purpose is to furnish a laboratory for music education students.

At all the home football games as well as pep rallies the band played rousing pep music and encouraged school spirit.

Jerry Walters, Dick Perry, Alma Boyd, Lorene Butler, and Joyce Nicol are directed by Dr. Day Baker.

In December, the Ensemble presented their first concert including a special feature, a children's toy instrument band which played Christmas music. The second concert was held February 28, and Dr. Rosemary Clarke was featured as piano soloist.

The meaning of SYMPHONIC WIND ENSEMBLE as opposed to Concert Band is that emphasis is placed on the individual by having little or no duplication of parts. This idea was begun by Dr. Frederick Fennell of the Eastman School of Music and rapidly spread all over the country.

Key -- 1960

"Another deadline, so soon?" "Who in the world is that in the back row?" "Keep working, kids, it's only three in the morning!" These are some of the comments that KEY staff members have uttered or heard during the time that this year's KEY was being assembled. Most of the staff members were "green" when it came to putting together a yearbook, but they learned fast!

Activities that various KEY staff members participated in were: a publisher-sponsored convention in the fall, publication committee meetings where yearbook salesmen delivered their messages, nomination of KEY Queen candidates, and a spring banquet. The KEY staff also sponsored a contest this year -- guessing how many pictures would appear in the 1960 KEY.

In addition to other activities, the Editor of the KEY attended an associated Collegiate Press meeting in New York City in the fall.

Iota Chi Sigma

IOTA CHI SIGMA is composed of any college girls who are interested in the expression of a Christian purpose in life.

Through projects, the members have carried out the theme "Working with Youth" during the year. As part of their work, the girls spend one evening a month at the Dubuque Girls' Recreation Center.

Some of the guest speakers at IOTA CHI SIGMA meetings have been representatives of the Baby Fold, Y. W.C.A., and the Girls' Center.

Formal initiation was held on January 9, with Dr. Berger as speaker. A banquet at Swiss Valley Chalet followed the service.

In April, the IOTA CHI girls enjoyed a closed party with dates.

Pre-Theological Society

Fellowship and information are the ideals promoted by the PRE-THEOLOGICAL SOCIETY -- fellowship among its members and information concerning the seminary and post-seminary life of a minister. Once a month the organization meets and by means of speakers, panel discussions, and question and answer periods seeks to achieve its purposes.

Some of the programs included a panel discussion on "The Responsibility of a Future Minister on the Campus," a talk by the Reverend Richard Heydinger on "The Minister's Library," and a discussion led by Orville Roth, admissions counselor for the seminary on "Preparation for Seminary."

The group also sponsors a gospel team which provides worship services for the aged and shut-ins.

Throughout this year, SCA sponsored the weekly Vespers, cell groups in dorms, ushers and moderators for weekly chapel, and gospel teams.

Other projects included a homecoming float, Thanksgiving baskets, adoption of a new constitution, Christmas banquet, SCA carnival, clothing drive, spring banquet, and retreat.

The monthly meetings, which were open to everyone at the University, included interested topics. Several of them were "Religion and Sex," "The Pacifist's Answer to World Conflict," and "Science and Religion."

Bios Alpha Philos

Newest organization on campus -- that is the boast of the newly founded biology club. The purpose of the organization is to bring two national organizations, Beta Beta Beta (a biology organization) and Alpha Epsilon Delta (a pre-medical association) to our campus. In order to have these organizations, the campus must have a departmental organization for one year.

The organization holds as its ideal the acquaintance with various phases of biology on a more informal basis than in the classroom. The group will gain new contacts with outstanding people in the biological field.

Chemistry Club

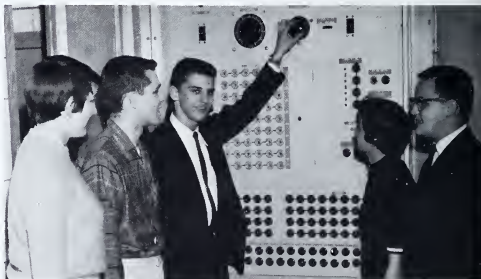

CHEMISTRY CLUB was organized in February of 1959 and carried out a full program of activities during its first semester. One of the many purposes of the club is to undertake a pattern of growth and development that will lead to the acceptance of the club as the Dubuque Chapter of Student Affiliates of the American Chemical Society.

Highlights of that first semester were the lectures by the Visiting Professor of Chemistry, Dr. Richard Romette, climaxed by the First Annual Bonquet in his honor. The club awarded its "Catalyst of the Year" award to Mrs. Effie E. Goldthorp.

This year there were monthly seminars, usually conducted by sponsors. Dr. Gerard Wyatt of Yale University led one meeting on "Biochemistry and the Metamorphosis of Insects."

A field trip to the DuPont Cellophane Plant in Clinton was also held.

The highlight of this year was the opening and dedication of Goldthorp Science Hall. Club members assisted in moving, in open-house, and other dedication events.

KUDD

630 on your dial -- that's KUDD. The purpose of KUDD is to bring to the students of the University a campus-operated radio station with which they can be affiliated. This year the control room was completely remodeled. New transmission facilities enable students to hear KUDD anywhere on campus.

One of the special programs included a taped interview with the famed news analyst, Paul Harvey.

University Society For International Cooperation

International friendship and understanding -- this is the purpose of USIC on the campus of the University. Membership is open to all who wish to share in the concern for world peace and cooperation.

Programs were varied, including a welcome meeting for new foreign students, a panel discussion of problems a foreign student faces when he enters a new country, a Christmas meeting highlighted by descriptions of Christmas celebrations on every continent, and on "International Fiesta."

Many of the members were invited to speak at churches, schools, and secular organizations. Several attended the 18th Ecumenical Conference of World Student Christian Federation at Athens, Ohio and the Iowa International Student Weekend in Des Moines.

Student Iowa State Education Association

The purpose of SISEA is to elevate the character and advance the interest of the profession of teaching and to promote the cause of popular education in the United States.

The Dubuque chapter was organized on the campus in 1952 as the Future Teachers of America.

Jon Davison, Jim Fox, and Bill Peck set up a football demonstration at SISEA regional meeting.

The purpose of the organization was discussed at the social meeting held in November. After the business meeting, the members square-danced. In October, the chaplain from the Eldora State Training School spoke on juvenile delinquency and discipline. In December the group discussed "Guidance in a Modern Era." Christmas caroling followed the meeting.

The January meeting concerned the guidance of mentally retarded children. February's meeting was an interview between Max Clark, Du- buque Superintendent of schools and Phil Skelley. Dr. Leo Nussbaum spoke on a facet of Indian education in March. Summer employment for teachers was the topic for the April meeting. Concluding the year's program was a film entitled "Right Angle."

The group took on a special project--"Books for Asian Students."

Every treasury needs many and the DELTA treasury was no exception. To earn their "petty cash" the DELTAS sold concessions at a football game. At Homecoming they constructed a float and held a coffee hour. In October the girls also sponsored an all-school record dance.

The DELTA'S big project for Christmas was taking the children from the Baby Fald downtown to see Santa Claus. Their sorority Christmas party was held at Karigans in Dubuque.

Delta honoraries, Dr. Anna Aitchison, Miss Hazel Rathlisberger, Mrs. R. W. Sandven, Mrs. Frank C. Edwards, and Mrs. W. Burnet Easton, Jr. contributed a great deal to the sorority this year and the girls helped several of them celebrate their birthdays. The month of February was devoted to rushing which included the teas, informal party, initiation and banquet.

The year closed with the election of officers and a great flunk week-end.

"Remember Gamma Phi Delta for they're sure to remember YOU." This motto of Gamma Phi Delta shows their awareness of the fact that the real purpose of a sorority should be to build friendships that are lasting. To build these lasting friendships the members engaged in many activities together, such as social hours once a month and several of the traditional bake sales.

Scholarship has its place in sorority life, too, and the Gammas proved it again by winning the Zeta Phi Traveling Scholarship Trophy for having the highest scholastic average for sororities. The reunion picnic held in September united many alumni and current members. This year the Gammas held an alumni coffee hour Homecoming week-end which proved to be very successful. On November 6, the Gammas held a progressive dinner and invited dates.

Other activities have portrayed the year well, and of course, the year wouldn't be complete without mentioning rush, initiation, banquet, May Fete baath, flunk week-end at Delhi, and the spring closed party.

Fall activities of the Zetas included a banquet and dance, fall rush, taking in Jean Swede, homecoming float (in the drenching rain) and several money-making projects--Hallaween Food Sale, pizza sale, candy sale, and pam-pam sale at games.

December kept the Zeta's active with the annual Zeta Phi Fallies. This year the theme was "Fallies des Neige." Christmas caroling and a party at Mrs. Zuker's climaxed the year 1959.

The new year was soon in full swing with a slumber party, semester food sales, an Easter project, Flunk weekend, and rushing. Eighteen new members were added in the spring.

Zeta's were happy to have as their honararies this year Mrs. William Zuker, Mrs. James Carver, and Mrs. LeRoy Giles. The year was brought to an end with an early breakfast at which the new officers were installed, paddles given out, and many sad farewells said.

This year the ATHENAEAN fraternity had as its honoraries Marge Kremer, Tom Turner, Donald Cooney, and James Batt.

Numbered among their activities for the year were a successful carwash, a well-attended pancake supper, homecoming activities (with the A's winning first prize on their float) and the re-opening of the "Black Orchid" -- one of the better of the dance events on campus.

Rush season found the A's enjoying their informal party at Marge Kremer's home and their formal party at the Diamond Horseshoe. Spring was the time for the A closed party, May Fete booth and flunk week-end.

The Joe Costo combo was featured at the Phi Omicron closed party. It was held at the American Legion Hall. The annual formal Christmas Dance, "Snowflake Fantasy" was again sponsored by the Phi O's and it proved to be successful.

The Thirteener booth at the May Fete carnival attracted many people.

The cat leaped off to a fast start taking the concessions for the first football game. Almost immediately following, the Thirteener's annual project of passing out blotters to the college community provided little time for rest.

The social-minded cat took to hay by sponsoring a successful non-profit making hayride in early October. In spite of wet weather which "dampened the cat's paws," homecoming was considerably brightened by a prize-winning float and by the presence of Dr. Hamer Canzett at a reception held by the fraternity to honor him as one of our esteemed alumni.

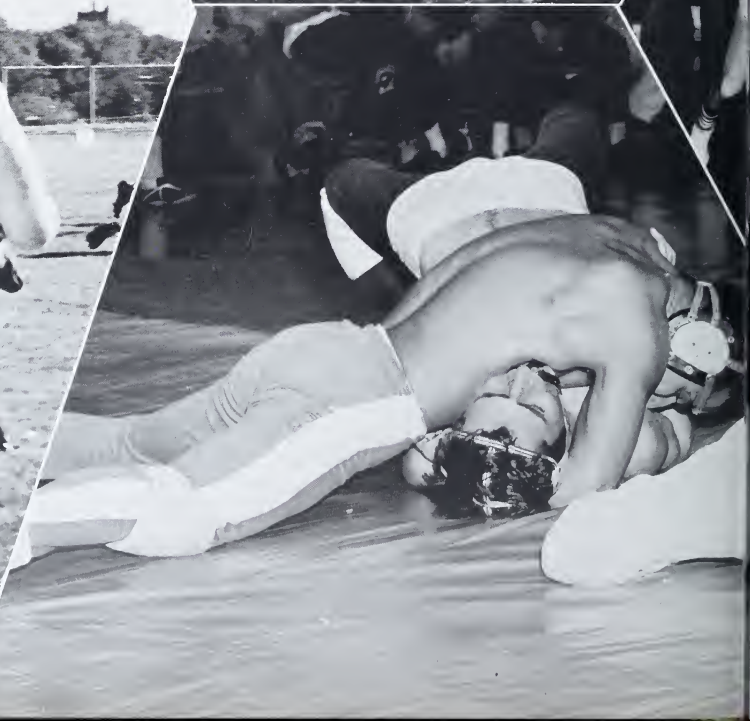

Before the adjournment for the Christmas holidays the cat held its yearly Christmas banquet. With the start of a new decade and a forty-fifth anniversary, the Thirteener's held a pre-game mixer for the University.

The informal rush party at the "Y," the formal rush party at Leiser's Gardens, and the successful initiation program brought new members into the circle of the Black Cat.

During the spring semester the Thirteeners engaged in many activities including the election of officers, May Fete, a car wash, the Sweetheart picnic, flunk-weekend, and planned for their annual summer reunion.

Cheerleaders June Molek and Liz Collisson are encouraged by a football player.

The 1959 Spartan team began their season on Chalmers Field with a 30-6 victory over a non-conference opponent, William Penn College. As was the case during the 1958 season, the Spartans fought to five victories in their first six games. Hampered by injuries and outweighed by their opponents, the University of Dubuque eleven were finally hurled into a fifth place finish, defeated in their final three starts.

Conference action got under way at Central College where the Spartans reminded the Dutchmen, by defeating them 20-12, that the Dubuque-Central "Victory Bell" still belongs at the University where it has been for two previous seasons.

A 14-0 win over the Simpson Redmen by the Mercer-Odenkirk-Blum crew emphasized the improved defense displayed by the Spartans. All conference back, Captain Dale Giesler, carried the pigskin for both Dubuque touchdowns and Maurice Waugh batted the two extra points.

"Victory!" was the cry as the Luther Norsemen invaded Chalmers Field. With spirit and desire running high, the Spartans scored seven points in the first quarter and held the 7-0 lead until ten minutes remained in the final period. From then on, the Spartans were unable to contain Little All-American back, Brad Husted and his helpers. The Norsemen headed back to Decorah with a 13-7 victory in hand.

Tom Epperly and Pete McGregor reflect a bad moment in a dreary homecoming game.

"Remember 1958!" "Bring wastebaskets, bells, trumpets, drums, and anything that makes noise!" We're going to beat Parsons!" These were some of the enthusiastic shouts made and heard by Dubuque Spartan football enthusiasts. General chaos had already struck the campus the night before the game.

There were many injuries suffered by each team as the game progressed. The Spartans left the field at half time with Parsons holding an impressive 13-0 lead. Returning to the field, the UD eleven began to shatter the Parsons line as they scored two quick touchdowns and knotted the score. The Spartans continued their attack, and with nearly seven minutes remaining in the game, Maurice Waugh angled a ten yard field goal that won the game for Dubuque, 16-13.

Fayette, Iowa, was the next stop for the Dubuque Spartans. The Upper Iowa Peacocks were celebrating their homecoming, and the halftime score of 7-6, with the Peacocks leading, indicated that Upper Iowa might have a victory to celebrate. Their hopes increased as the Peacocks scored again in the third quarter and led 14-16. Then Dale Giesler scored three times as Dubuque won 25-20.

Homecoming Day dawned bitter cold and wet. Slips, fumbles, and frustrations dominated the game as the Buena Vista Beavers were in control 6-0 at half-time. Buena Vista continued pounding at the Dubuque line during the second half. As the game progressed, several Spartans were injured in the savage action. The Beavers scored two more touchdowns to inflict upon Dubuque its only shut-out of the season.

The Wartburg Knights, conference champions, hosted the Spartans at Waverly. At the close of the first half it looked as if the Dubuque team might have found the key to the conquest of the Knights as the score was deadlocked at 7-7. Wartburg scored once in the third quarter and then went on to a 33-7 victory, tallying twenty points during the fourth quarter.

The Spartans ended the season on Dubuque's snow-covered ice-pond--Chalmers Field--facing Iowa Wesleyan's Tigers. Dubuque led at the intermission, 14-6 as "frozen" spectators stomped and cheered. The Tigers came from behind to score 21 points and put the game on ice, 27-14.

At the finish of their regular twenty-game season -- not including the N.A.I.A. tournament, Coach James Odenkirk's men were victorious thirteen times. In conference play the Spartans finished in a respectable tie for second place with eleven wins and five losses. It was a season of three broken records, also.

To open the season, Luther disappointed Dubuque basketball enthusiasts by handing the Spartans a stinging loss. Things were evened-up, however, when Dubuque turned around and ramped to a victory over Central.

Here's the tip-off to another fine basketball season for the University of Dubuque.

"Frustration" was the word to describe the University's next game. A last second basket gave Platteville an 85-83 win over the Spartans. Not to be outdone, the University five spanked Buena Vista 77-67 for their next encounter.

The Spartans soon found that Wartburg's continual tournament play during the Christmas holidays was an important element as the Knights whipped Dubuque. Again the Spartans could see no reason to lose two games in a row as they made Simpson their next victim. On the following night they defeated Central.

Upper Iowa was the next step for the University cagers, and it was here that they realized their scoring abilities as they sheared the Peacocks, 103-96.

BELOW: Hands and eyes are raised upward as players scramble for the leather sphere.

Yopp passes his Simpson foe for a lay-up shot.

The next two games were lost to Parsons and the University of Chicago. This was the only time during the season that the Dubuque Spartans appeared in the loss column two games in a row.

Coach Odenkirk's men won five of their first ten games, but realizing their potential, they worked harder. They won eight of their final ten games.

Captain Bruce Meriwether lines up a perfect shot during the Parson's contest.

St. Ambrose and Iowa Wesleyan found the Spartans to be quite a "hot-shooting outfit," and both felt the blows of defeat as Dubuque beat them.

It was a "do-or-die" situation as the Dubuque cagers traveled to Wartburg. They had to beat the Knights to even consider winning conference title. But the Knights proved to be champions -- while Dubuque managed to foul excessively.

BELOW: A low-traveling Peacock and Tam Buelaw have intersecting paths.

Luther college became the first victim of the Spartan "revival." The Norsemen were stung by a 91-88 loss to the high scoring Dubuquers. Not stopping with this, the University cagers stunned a respected Platteville team with an 111-95 victory.

Buena Vista, seemingly able to conquer the toughest teams in the league, became one of the two teams to put a blot on the Spartan's final ten-game drive by beating them 92-77.

Dubuque, now appearing weekly in N.A.I.A. offense statistics, staged their own "night to remember" by beating the Simpson five 114-81 before a wildly-cheering crowd at McCormick gym. The team broke the old Dubuque scoring record of 113 points.

Realizing two wins were necessary to gain a second place finish, the Spartans finished their regular season with a pair of victories over Parsons and Iowa Wesleyan.

Boys' Club representatives present trophies to seniors and former members, Terry Horris and Tom Buelow.

It was the end of a happy season for seniors Tom Buelow, Terry Harris, and Captain Bruce Meriwether. The 1959-60 cagers finished in the top ten on the N.A.I.A. offense statistic chart with an average of 86.5 points-per-game. This total broke last year's record.

The Junior Varsity Squad, coached by Ron Hess, comprised of Scott Berry, Bill Carter, Dick Fisher, Brian Gifford, Harold Sudmeyer, Russ Waggoner, and Bruce Wands also finished their season leaving a favorable impression on their viewers. The Junior Varsity Squad played their games immediately before the Spartan games, playing opponents from other conference teams as well as local competition.

In the referee's position, Sam Limperis prepares to show his Elmhurst rival a rough time.

The 1959-60 Wrestling Team was the first in the history of the U. of D. to go undefeated. Coach Maca Mercer's group of matmen proved that conditioning was well worth the effort as they completed their "dual meet" season with a string of eleven victories. Three men went undefeated: Ran Moan, Bruce Sayers, and Jim Fax.

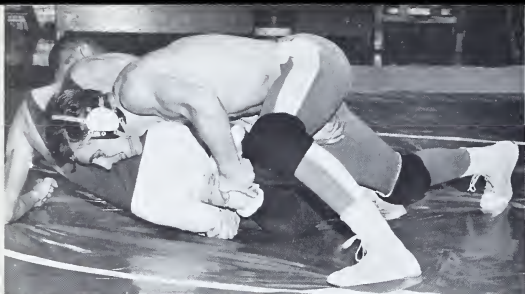

Maca's matmen traveled to Knox College to begin their season and staged what most thought to be an upset—they won the first place trophy of the Knox Invitational.

The Spartan wrestlers invaded the gymnasiums of Simpson and Parsons Colleges. In the Simpson meet, the University eight earned their only shut-out victory of the season. The following day Parsons nearly met the same fate.

The following meet gave wrestling enthusiasts their first look at the powerful 1960 squad as the Spartans hosted Elmhurst.

With grim determination on his face, Jim Fax is about to pull his opponent's shoulders to the mat for a pin.

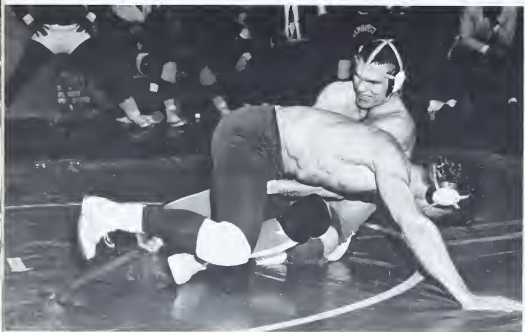

Bruce Soyers ties up his opponents leg as he works toward another five points.

2:00 p.m. was the time; McCormick gym was the place; and the wrestling meet between Wortburg and Dubuque was the event. The winner was not determined until the final horn had sounded and riding time was composed. The Spartans had snored their fifth straight victory.

Parsons College wrestlers, in half force, entered the area only to be tossed about and bodily beaten by the Spartans as Moco's men ran up the highest score of the season, 35-3. Simpson's second attempt against the Spartans showed Dubuque rolling on to victory number eight.

Captain Don Corten attempts to complete his switch.

Chuck Snook strains to get his Wortburg opponent "off his back" for two points.

Upper lowe rolled out their mats (whether they were "welcome" mats or not is unknown) to host the UD wrestlers. By the time sixteen wrestlers had returned to their corners, Dubuque was declared the victor, 20-8.

John Brown thoughtfully considers the situation of hand.

Loke Forest's tough squad turned into another victim of the Spartans as did Coe College.

Wrestling enthusiasts turned out in great numbers to see if the UD jinx against having a perfect season could be broken. At the finish of four matches of this final meet with Groceland College, the score stood 6-6. The crowd cheered and the final four decisions were awarded to Dubuque.

With this, Coach Moco Mercer was raised above the shoulders of his undefeated squad and paraded around McCormick gymnasium in a joyous celebration -- in spite of his pleas of "come on, let's roll up the mats."

1959 Cross Country Team

Cooch George French's newly-organized cross country team consisting of Bill Macfarlane, Peter Boyd, Tom TeBockhorst, John Hudson, Bob Johnston, and Ron Mensack made a favorable impression with sports fans, not only locally, but nationally this year.

Dual meet competition proved to be no obstacle for the Spartan harriers of 1959. Cooch French's crew defeated every one of their opponents in dual meets.

The Spartan runners entertained only competition they were able to secure. One of their major accomplishments occurred at the Iowa and Midwest AAU cross country meet when they finished second, in a large field of runners, to Iowa State University.

At Omoho, Nebraska, the U of D horriers made a successful bid for national recognition as they finished sixth in the N.A.I.A. national championship cross country meet.

For the season finale the horriers traveled to Waverly, Iowa where the first Iowa Conference cross country meet on record was held. The Spartan runners returned with a first place trophy. They finished the meet with five runners sweeping the first five places and the sixth runner came in seventh.

Track

The 1959 track team put on a display of true Spartan power and initiative on the cinders as they completed another undefeated season in dual meet competition. This was not the only accomplishment of the Dubuque cindermen of 1959. They proudly carried home first place laurels from the Pella Invitational, the Iowa Conference Relays, the Elmhurst Relays, and the Dubuque-Iowa Wesleyan-Coe Triangular meet.

The most important fact about track season was that Coach Moco Mercer's cindermen regained possession of first place in the Iowa Conference meet -- a position which Dubuque held for seven years during the decade of the "Fabulous Fifties."

ROW ONE: D. Willard, P. Boyd, M. Gerrie, S. Jenkins, W. Day, J. Hudson, captain, H. Fischer, W. Macfarlane, B. Bowling, L. Farrugia, J. Harr. ROW TWO: W. Mackenzie, R. Fisher, J. Cramer, T. Epperley, S. Berry, R. Speerman, H. DeVries, R. Johnston, M. Hufendick, B. Wonds, J. Terouds, P. McGregor.

The University of Dubuque track squad of 1960 started this new decade in the same fine style they have shown throughout the previous decade. Coach Moco Mercer's track team consisted of nearly the entire team of 1959 plus the service of many fine freshmen runners who have proven themselves earlier as athletic assets to the University during the cross country season.

The 1960 Track Schedule was as follows: Coe, Naperville Relays, Iowa Teachers, Wartburg, Conference Relays, Iowa Teachers Relays, Dubuque-Iowa Wesleyan-Coe Triangular Meet, Drake Relays, Luther, Beloit Relays, Elmhurst Relays, and the Conference Meet.

Men who won their event at 1959 Conference Track meet are Juris Terauds, Javelin; Blair Bowling, 440; Peter Bayd, Mile; John Hudson, Two Mile.

Golf

Jeff Podhaski, Lorry Ockelmann, Alex Philip, captain, Don Lock, Joey Rohwer, Jon Lorson.

Dr. James Carver, in his first year as the Spartan golf coach had a big job to do to coach his golf team after the poor 1959 season. Captain Alex Philip, the only returning letterman this year, was a strong man to build a team around having won medalist honors at the Iowa Conference meet in 1959. This year's schedule was as follows: Wartburg, Rockford, Platteville, Luther, Parsons, Iowa State Teachers, Monmouth and Rockford, Platteville and the conference meet.

Under the watchful eyes of Captain Alex Philip, Joey Rohwer practices his driving form for the coming season.

Tennis

Beginning their 1959 tennis events, coach C.T. Peterson's racket squad managed to stay on the respectable end of a season record of five wins and four losses. Their next step was in winning the Pella Doubles Tournament.

Really set on having a successful season, Coach Peterson's men went to the Conference meet swinging harder and more accurate than ever. As a reward, they received the title of Iowa Conference tennis champions of 1959.

One of the highlights of the tennis season occurred at the Conference Meet when Captain Lee Stevens captured the tennis singles "crown."

Mainstay of the 1960 tennis squad are: KNEELING, Bruce Eggen, letterman; Lee Stevens, letterman and captain; STANDING, Hilary Sattgast, Ran Carlson, and Dick Stevens, letterman.

Another Year Begins . . .

Nearly 250 new students became acquainted with the University of Dubuque during the traditional college "New Student Days." Filled with enthusiasm and anticipation, they were greeted and orientated by their upperclass student counselors.

Picnic fun at Eagle Point Park.

All week the students were kept busy. They participated in mixed swimming, tried out for the choir, attended a modern jazz concert, went to Eagle Point park for a picnic, and danced at several mixers.

New student days -- from Dean Nussbaum's address, "Why Are We Here?" to meeting with faculty counselors -- are the days that give freshmen the opportunity to become adjusted to college life.

The week was climaxed for the freshmen when they received their blue and white beanies, sold to them by the sophomores. Already they were beginning to work and have fun together as a class.

The 1959 program was sponsored by student senate with Jackie Baldwin and Nolan North in charge.

Opening Convocation

Faculty and administration, dressed in academic attire, filed into McCormick Gymnasium for the opening convocation on September 15.

The mace of the University founder, Adrian Van Vliet, was presented and the Scroll recording the school's origin and ideals was read.

Gary Brammer and Darla Chadima represented the freshman class in accepting the robes from seniors, Ernest Miller and Jan Pilson, in the investiture ceremony. Dr. Leo Nusbaum presented the address.

After the program, all were invited to the reception in the J.C. Lounge to meet the faculty and administration at a formal tea.

This fall, ten freshmen science students in the College of Liberal Arts "tested out" of beginning courses in the Science Division by writing special comprehensive examinations. Academic credit is not given for the "test-out". However, students are then allowed to take the more advanced science and math courses or, they may elect to broaden his course work in the humanities and social sciences.

New members of the faculty and staff were introduced at the annual faculty dinner which was held this year in Peters Commons. Dr. Couchman served as master of ceremonies. Dr. and Mrs. Nussbaum presented those present with hand-carved miniature elephants which they purchased while in India last year.

The football squad demonstrated their athletic ability in a volleyball game against the women of Severance Hall. Dressed in such costumes as pink pajamas, football pads, and floor mops, the boys provided plenty of laughs. After the game there was mixed swimming and an "open" volleyball game. All of these activities were sponsored by the Sporton Club.

A chilly fall evening was the setting for an old-fashioned hayride in the country. The Thirteen Fraternity organized and sponsored the affair. Three wagons were used to take the couples to a farm outside of Dubuque. There everyone enjoyed eating the refreshments which were served around campfires. Singing campfire songs also added to the fun.

Return To Sparta

The coronation of the 1959 Homecoming Queen, Jackie Baldwin, and the announcement of her court was the first in a series of events held on Homecoming week end.

After the coronation, a snake dance took Spartan fans down to Chalmers Field where they rallied around the Homecoming bonfire. Rain and cold weather failed to dampen the spirits of students or cheerleaders. Challenged by the sophomores to build a fire larger than last year's, the freshmen obliged. Queen Jackie started the huge pile blazing while the band played and the students sang the school fight song.

This year, the Homecoming "floats" really lived up to their name. With puddles on the quadrangle fast becoming ponds, most campus organizations didn't get a chance to set up their displays. A few groups braved the elements and prizes were awarded to the following: Sweepstake's trophy - Freshman class: First place - Athenaeon Fraternity Second place - Thirteen Fraternity Third place - Delta Phi Sigma Sorority.

First prize float, "Stick 'em with a loss!"

Another homecoming tradition is the alumni banquet served in Peters Commons. Two "Alumni of Distinction" awards were presented after the banquet. Those who received them were: Dr. David Gelzer, a teaching missionary in West Africa and Dr. Homer Conzett, a physicist at the University of Southern California Radiation Laboratories at Berkeley. Dr. Conzett also delivered the banquet address.

Later that evening, alumni and students gathered again in Peters Commons to enjoy an evening of dancing. The D club sponsored the dance and their decorations made everyone feel that they had "returned to Sparta."

Ted Littler, Jim Zimmer, and Ron Walters enjoy Severance hospitality while Jayne Stumpf looks on.

Severance Hall girls were hostesses to their parents and friends on Sunday of Homecoming week end. The dormitory was open for anyone who cared to stop by.

Pat Walleat, Mrs. William Walleat, Nancy Anderson and Marilyn Young discuss the fun-filled week end.

George Lucktenberg, young harpsichord virtuoso, performed at the University of Dubuque on November 8, playing several selections from Mozart, Scalatti, and Handel. A special feature of this unusual program was the performance of the rarely heard Goldberg variations of Bach.

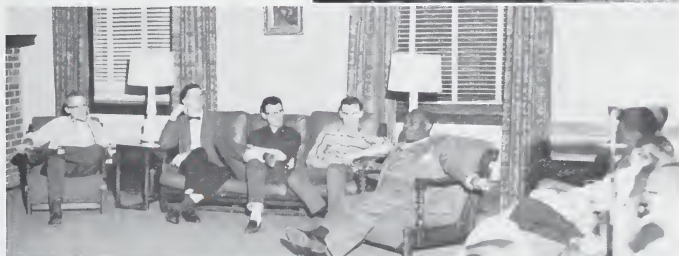

Later that same week, the annual observance of Faith and Life Week was held. This year Dr. James Rabinsan, founder of the Church of the Master in New York City stressed Christian adjustment.

Dr. Rabinsan spoke at three convocations. He also led informal discussions in both the men's and women's dormitories.

By sharing their ideas and spending a few days of intense concentration on the problems of spiritual life, the college and seminary students had ample opportunity to be enlightened, encouraged, and rewarded.

Mike Weatherbee frightens Lydia Guerrero and Daug Hickerson

Provincial France in the 15th Century is the scene of "The Farce of the Worthy Master Pierre Patelin." The main cast was as follows:

- Guillemette, a nagging wife--Lydia Guerrero
- Patelin, a shyster lawyer--Mike Weatherbee
- Guillaume Joceaulme, a penny-pinching merchant--Doug Hickerson
- Tibald Lambkin, a crude but crafty shepherd--Dave Conner
- The Judge, a pompous character--Howard Griffin

Ruth Flage and Charles Wagner argue about their land boundaries.

One Act Plays

Four performances of "Marriage Proposal" by Anton Tchekoff and "The Farce of the Worthy Master Pierre Patelin" were given in the newly decorated Campus Lane Theater and two other performances were given at East Moline State Hospital. Both were directed by Dr. Donald J. Savage.

Doug Hickerson cowers as Larry Raber looks on; the judge scolds, Mike Weatherbee scowls and Dave Conner bleats

Charles Wagner as Ivan Yassilyitch Lomov, a bachelor who asks for the hand of Natalie Stepanovna, played by Ruth Flage and Jay Elmer who plays her father, Stephan Stepanovitch Tsohubukov made up the cast of Tchekoff's play which took place in Russia at the end of the last century.

Christmas Activities

Banqueters at the annual SCA Christmas Banquet numbered over 500 this year. They were served family style by students under the direction of Mrs. Leonard Kremer.

The program consisted of an invocation by President Couchman, a solo by Lydia Guerrero, a reading by Janice Tindall, and a performance by the concert choir.

Mr. Kenneth Nielsen led everyone in singing carols as the final portion of the entertainment.

Sue LaRash, Barb Yankee, Janie Olson, and Barb Jahanssen decorate the Darm Christmas tree in preparation for the Severance all-night Christmas party

The Christmas Dance was held in Peters Commons with Gus Fuhrman's Orchestra playing. The holiday ball was sponsored by the Phi Omicron fraternity.

The crowd, made up of both students and faculty, not only danced; but at intermission they joined together, under the direction of Roger Kipfer, to sing Christmas carols.

Eugene Studier, Bruce Eggen, Bob Dabling, and Pat Allen discuss the art exhibit.

Final exam week, showing that half of the school year had already passed, was the scene of quick reviewing, cramming, eating, and finishing term papers.

This year the Student Senate sponsored a morning and afternoon coffee break for weary faculty and students. The Senate was also responsible for having the library open for special Sunday hours.

Severance Hall and Steffens Hall members were sold "Food for Thought" each evening by two of the campus sororities.

Nominees For Key Queen

The ten original nominations for Key Queen were made by the Key staff members. Then the field was narrowed down to five nominees in an all-school election. The Queen, Judy Luke, was chosen in still another election a week before the Sweetheart Swirl.

Shirley and Bruce Meriwether receive Omicron Mu refreshments from Mrs. Mary Baakot as Sally Benedict and Art Wiegand wait in line.

Operas

The production of two operas was made possible with the help of many University of Dubuque students, faculty, and friends.

One of the operas, "The Telephone," by Gian - Carlo Menotti, concerns a young man who is frustrated in his efforts to propose to the girl of his choice by the jangling of the telephone and the endless jabbering which follows. He finally resorts to the only means left in order to tell of his love and to make his proposal -- a telephone call.

Julie Fuller and John Neve, stars of "The Telephone."

Jack Kimple, the villain, sneers at Dione Thomas as chorus members look on in "Down in the Valley."

Dione Thomas as Jennie Parsons and Marvin Nielsen as Brack Weaver reminisce about the day they first met.

The familiar old melodies of "Down in the Valley" tell the story of Brack Weaver, a young mountain boy who is sentenced to die for the murder of Thomas Bouche, the villain. He breaks jail in order to spend a few moments with his sweetheart. In retrospect they relive their moments spent together before the murder at Shadow Creek.

The Miser

The spring production of the University Players was one of the great classic comedies, The Miser (L'Avare) by Moliere. The Miser, like so many of the works of Moliere, is a lampoon against one of man's foibles. The main character, Harpagon, represents avarice in its extremity. The safety of his cash box supersedes all other considerations in Harpagon's mind. His regard for the happiness of his and daughter as well as his interest in a young woman are both of secondary importance. When a crafty servant, in conspiracy with Harpagon's son, steals the master's cash box, Harpagon's rises to a fever of suspicion in which he recommends that everyone, the audience included, be thrown into prison until the money is recovered.

Dave Cannor and Jay Elmer rehearse the beating scene.

Freshman Follies

The freshman class organized their talented members to present the Freshman Follies in Senior High School Auditorium.

The theme "Perdido" was presented for the audience in the form of a night club scene with the class members taking the part of entertainers.

There were thirteen acts including comedy, dances, instrumentals, singing, and impersonations.

Bill Carter was the master of ceremonies.

The "Darts," a professional quartette, were a special feature on the program.

The trio of Bill Day, Lydia Guerrero, and Maty Archundia won first place in the Freshman follies.

Gerald Payne sings with the chorus of sailors as Jerry Hangartner plays the part of the villain, Dick Deadeye.

H.M.S Pinafore

The University Symphony Orchestra, the Concert Choir, other interested singers, and the drama department presented two performances of H.M.S Pinafore with two casts of soloists last spring.

The crew and friends of His Majesty's Ship Pinafore.

Eldan Benedict, Ken McCullen, Gerald Payne, and Jerry Hangartner, four "able seamen."

May Fete Weekend

May Fete began last spring with the junior-senior banquet in Peters Commons. On the first day of May, King Dennis Guerrieri and Queen Jan Arduser were crowned at the coronation in McCormick Gymnasium by the 1958 King and Queen Darrell Rodger and Lois Quade Pearce.

Seniors Evie Conner and Gile Sievers; juniors Dolores Zarn and Bill Peck; sophomores Mary Steffenson and Bruce Sayers; and freshmen Charlotte Thompson and Bruce Cunningham were attendants. Jim Zimmer and Bill Carter were the court jester and page.

The following morning was the May Fete breakfast and class skits in the Commons. During the rest of the day, various campus organizations sponsored carnival booths on the quadrangle.

A deep sea excursion into "Neptune's Paradise" concluded the May Fete festivities. The junior prom was held in Lincoln Auditorium. The room had been transformed to an ocean bottom furnished with coral gardens, sunken treasure, and colorful water life.

Accompanied by the music of Buddy Laine and his orchestra, King Neptune's subjects danced from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 p.m.

The Baccalaureate Service for the college and seminary seniors was held on Sunday, May 31 while Graduation Exercises were held on the following day on the University quadrangle.

Speaker for Baccalaureate was the Rev. Fred Passler who graduated from the Dubuque Seminary in 1943.

The Graduation address was given by Dr. Alfonso Rodriguez, president of the Interdenominational Evangelical Theological Seminary.

Theological Seminary

Seminary Administration

During his 19th year at Dubuque, Dean Calvin T. Schnucker once more was faced with the manifold duties of administration, teaching, and counseling. To answer the demands of the church for more teachers, preachers, and missionaries, Dubuque must solve the problem of expansion, while maintaining high spiritual and academic standards.

Expansion must be made in the staff and faculty as well as in the physical plant. In promoting the interests of Dubuque Seminary, Dr. Schnucker traveled from coast to coast during the past year. During one of these trips he contacted Dr. Herbert Doran who came to the campus during the second semester to fill the vacancy created by Dr. Berger's retirement from the Division of Applied Theology. Dr. Schnucker was also called upon to speak throughout the country about the unique town and country program which he instituted at Dubuque to meet the needs of the rural church.

right: Miss Margaret Saum, registrar and secretary to the dean, again this year served as a liaison between students and the dean. Handling problems of enrolling, registering, and most schedule conflicts are but a few of the tasks with which Miss Saum must deal.

DAVID I. BERGER, Professor of Preaching, has served on the faculty from 1923 to 1934 and since 1946. Born in Vienna, Austria, Dr. Berger completed his M.R.E. at Auburn Seminary and his Th.D. at Dubuque. Dr. and Mrs. Berger, after 27 years of service, retired from the Seminary in January.

DONALD G. BLOESCH, Visiting Professor of Theology, holds the Bachelor of Divinity degree from Chicago Theological Seminary, the Ph.D. from the University of Chicago, and has done post-doctoral work at Oxford. Dr. Bloesch began teaching at Dubuque in 1957.

ARTHUR COCHRANE, Professor of Systematic Theology, came to Dubuque in 1948. He completed his undergraduate work at the Univ. of Toronto, received his Ph.D. from Edinburgh Univ., and has done post-doctoral work at Marburg, Germany. Dr. and Mrs. Cochrane have two sons.

GEORGE B. EHLHARDT, Seminary Librarian and Assistant Professor, received his B.A. from John B. Stetson Univ.; his B.D. at Duke Univ.; and his D.D. at St. Mark's, Jerusalem. Dr. Ehlhardt came to Dubuque in 1954.

RICHARD W. EVANS, Associate Professor of Church History, came to Dubuque in 1956. Dr. Evans holds a B.A. from the Univ. of Wisconsin, is an alumnus of Dubuque Seminary, and received his Ph.D. from the Univ. of Edinburgh. Dr. and Mrs. Evans have three children.

HUGH B. FOUKE, Instructor in Methodism and Assistant to the Field Education Director, received his B.A. from Morningside College, his S.T.B. from Boston Univ. School of Theology, and D.D. from Morningside. He also serves as pastor of the Grandview Methodist Church of Dubuque.

J. REID GRAHAM, Visiting Lecturer in Missions, received his B.A. from Davidson College, his B.D. from Yale Divinity School, and Ph.D. from Yale Univ. Dr. Graham is President of the United Theological School in India, and will return with his wife and four children at the end of his furlough.

ROBERT HEALEY, Associate Professor of Communication, holds a B.A. from Princeton, a M.F.A. from Yale School of Fine Arts, B.D. and Ph.D. from Yale Divinity School. The Healeys, parents of two sons, came to Dubuque in 1956.

WILLIAM JAMISON, Associate Professor of Applied Theology with responsibility in Christian Education, began work at Dubuque in 1955. He holds the B.A. from the Univ. of Southern California, a M.S. from Pennsylvania State Univ. and the Dr. of Education from the Univ. of Colorado. The Jamisons have four children.

JOSEPH MIHELIC, Professor of Old Testament and Exegesis, is a graduate of Dubuque, received his B.S. from Oberlin School of Theology, his Ph.D. from Univ. of Chicago, and he has done post-doctoral work in Vienna. Coming to Dubuque in 1944, the Mihelics have two children.

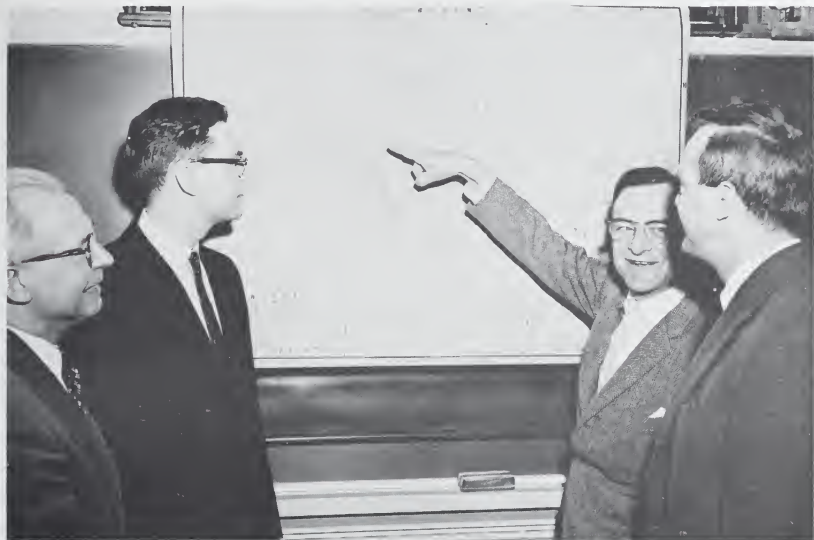

ORVILLE ROTH, Admissions Counselor and Director of Promotion, is a graduate of Dubuque Univ. and Theological Seminary. Mr. and Mrs. Roth came in 1959 from College Hill Community Church, Dayton, Ohio.

C. HOWARD WALLACE, Visiting Professor of Biblical Studies, holds the B.A. from Park College, the B.D. from McCormick Seminary, and is completing work toward the Th.D. from the Univ. of Basel. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace and their four children came to Dubuque in January, 1959.

Sabbaticals Enrich Faculty

For each of the past three years one of the faculty members has been doing special work under a grant from the Selantic Fund. Dr. Arthur C. Cochrane was in Germany during the academic year 1957-58, Dr. Joseph L. Mihelic during 1958-59, and during the current year, Dr. Charles E. Carston has been on leave from the campus.

Above: Drs. Mihelic, Bloesch, Cochrane, and Wallace compare travel notes.

Dr. Mihelic's subject was the Protestant Reformation in Austria in the sixteenth century, with special emphasis upon the Reformation among the Slovenes, interesting especially since Protestantism is preserved there in its original form.

Dr. Bloesch, who spent much of his spare time studying experiments in radical social action in the Protestant church since and during World War II, took an extended tour of Europe. Dr. Cochrane attended the First International Conference on the history of the church struggle in Germany from 1933 to 1945, held in Tutzing, Bavaria in August. He also attended the Kirchentag held near Munich as the official representative of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. Professor Wallace continued work on his doctorate at the University of Basel in Switzerland, his subject being symbolism in the Bible.

The problem of the historical Jesus has been the concern of Dr. Carlston this year at the University of Tubingen in Germany. He concentrated on this subject due to its increasing importance to the Church. Numerous attempts have been made in the past to reconstruct the life of Jesus. Now, once again, some scholars feel that such an accomplishment is possible. Dr. Carlston will return to the seminary in the fall.

The Division Of Biblical Studies

Dr. Wallace checks an assignment with Bob Elliot and Floyd Cripps

The Department of Bible seeks to instill within the student an intelligent grasp of the Gospel, for the minister must know the Bible. Hebrew and Greek are learned as tools for the study of the content and theology of Scripture. After the fundamentals, the student begins survey courses in both Old and New Testaments, then progressing to more specific sections and books of the Bible.

The Division Of Church History

A detailed examination of Christianity from its beginning to the present is essential, for a minister must know that God is central to and in control of all human events. Here the student observes how Christian beliefs have affected the lives of God's people both in and outside the Church.

The opening lecture on the history of enthusiasm by Dr. Evans.

The Division of Applied Theology

The purpose of this division is to aid the student in learning methods of conveying the Message. Courses in hamiletics (preaching), sacraments, administration, and Christian education are all directed toward this goal. Pictured above is a class on pastoral counseling led by Dr. Calvin Schnucker.

Dr. Healey addresses a class on education in the public schools and the Church. Class members are Bill Denny, Don Johnson, Carl Carlson, Verne Keil, Ken DeVries, Giles Card, and Dick Vaigt. Below: Dr. and Mrs. Schnucker are pictured in their home with Professor and Mrs. Daran, who came at mid-year to fill Dr. Berger's position in hamiletics.

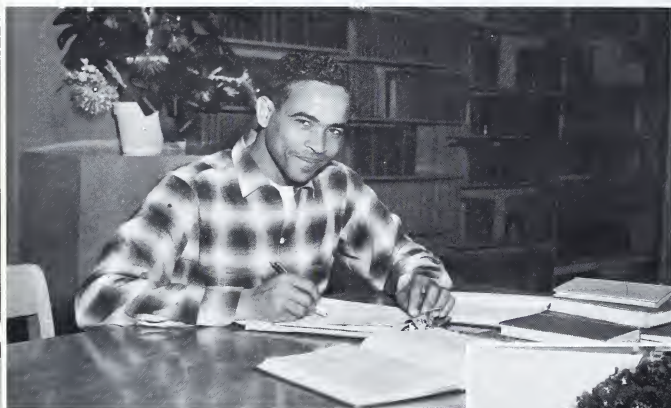

The Division of Systematic Theology

The Church has a right to expect its theologians to draw the content of their thinking from the Gospel and the help to release its power into the life and work of the Church. To further this idea, this division helps the student carefully examine the doctrines of God, the work of His creation, and the doctrines of providence and reconciliation.

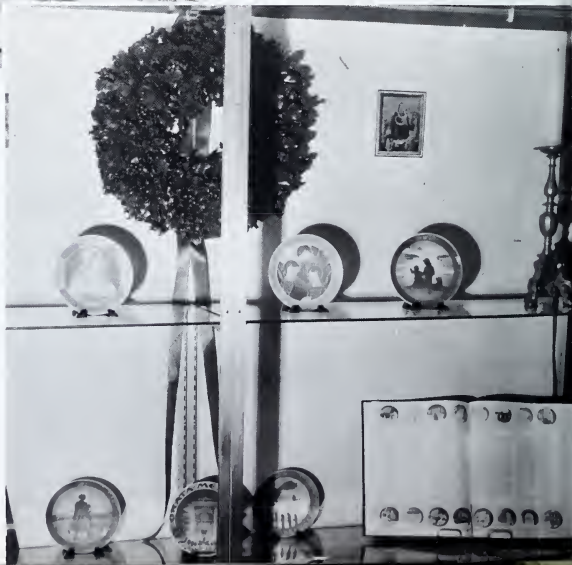

The Seminary Library

Directed by Dr. George B. Ehlhardt, the library continues to grow in volumes and service to students, faculty, and those in the field. The staff which provides the experience to make this growth possible are pictured at the right. STANDING: Mrs. C. L. Ostrander, Miss Lilion Stoiger, Mrs. Kenneth Boule. SEATED: Miss Elizabeth Anne Smith, M.L.S.

During the year the mezzanine also serves as an exhibit room, as many interesting displays are presented in the three cases. At the right is one grouping of the Royal Copenhagen Christmas Plates. Also shown during the year were a collection of rare manuscripts relating to the John Calvin 450th anniversary year, and a collection of objects from India owned by Deon Nussbaum.

middle right: Dr. Theodore Romig, of the Commission of Ecumenical Mission on an Ecumenical Mission and Relations, with Dr. Richard Evans, Dr. Joseph Mihelic, Dr. George Ehlerhardt, C. Howard Wallace, and Dr. Arthur Cochrane.

lower left: Dr. Nels F. S. Ferre, Abbot Professor of Christian Theology at Andover-Newton Theological School, greeting Dr. Richard Evans, Dr. Joseph Mihelic, and C. Howard Wallace.

The Field Office

With the enrollment of the seminary up to 144 from 134 students in 1958-59, the field program also grew in size and service. Under the direction of Dr. William Jamison, Director of Town and Country Program and Professor in Applied Theology, 103 students served either as assistants or as student pastors. During the year three students worked one day each week as assistants to the chaplain at the Iowa State Reformatory, Anamosa, Iowa. Nine others obtained special pastoral clinical training under the direction of the chaplain at the Mental Health Institute, Independence, Iowa. Others engaged in incidental supply work, and five have remained out of school for the year, under the internship program, and will return in the fall of 1960.

As admissions counselor, Melvin Rath travels widely to schools and colleges meeting potential seminarians. Two such prospects, Paul Beran and Dwight Chamberlain, are pictured at the right with Mr. Rath.

Secretary to Dr. Jamison and Mr. Rath is Mrs. Willard Frahs. Seminary typists are Muriel Kromer and Nancy Anderson.

Other Fields Of Service

Opportunities for service during the summer vocation period are available to students of the seminary. Some serve as chaplains and counselors in youth camps. Others work in various national parks and recreation areas, providing a ministry to the vacationing church-goer.

The picture of the left presents just one phase of summer activity among students of this seminary. It was taken inside the Utkeagvik Presbyterian Church at Barrow, Alaska, where Fred Houman, one of our senior students, spent his summer working with the Indians of that area.

In a seminary that considers its ministry to the rural church as its major concern, it is natural that its students should be given an opportunity to learn about farming. For five weeks each summer, students concern themselves with all phases of farm life. Courses in animal husbandry, agronomy, and general agriculture give a background to these students which is invaluable to their future ministry.

above: One of the many familiar sights to those who have attended Iowa State.

left: The students of this seminary pose on the steps of Curtis Hall with students of other seminaries who were also taking the course.

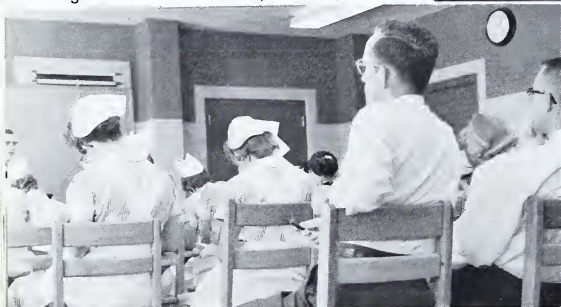

Clinical Training At Independence

Through the Mental Health Institute at Independence, Iowa, the seminary is able to offer a Summer Pastoral Clinical Training Course. This is a six-week summer residency program in which theological students participate in the activities of the Chaplain's Department. There are special lectures in the area of mental illness, development of the personality, pastoral counseling and religious dimensions of the personality.

This series of pictures which features the activities of Bab Walker during his training is typical of those of all students.

The student works at the Institute five days a week. His activity is centered around the contact between student and patient. Each student has a patient assigned to him for non-directive counseling on a regular basis. In this student-patient contact and work with the patients in ward duty the student is available to those who would seek to confer with him. He becomes acquainted with their problems and needs in this phase of his work. He is also led to a greater understanding of the problems of mental health and his limitations as a pastor and a person in dealing with emotional disturbances. The student is thereby led to a greater awareness of his own personality structure and its contribution to the counseling process as experienced by a parish pastor.

The Brotherhood

The formal organization in which all students join together to plan action programs, to cooperate with the seminary administration, and to provide a world-wide Christian witness is called the Brotherhood.

Helping each seminarian get acquainted upon arrival, holding a retreat in the fall, giving every student a voice in chapel services, academic matters, and publications, organizing the social life of the seminary--The Brotherhood attempts to make real the idea that a seminary should be both a school and a worm-hearted family.

All through the year the group works closely with the administration. A periodical entitled THE SEMINARIAN is published with articles contributed by both faculty and students. Delegates are appointed to represent the seminary of Inter-Seminary Movement conferences. In the day by day interplay between faculty and students many minor problems arise which are quietly handled by the Brotherhood.

Hundreds of dollars each year are given to assist in pioneer mission work in such varied areas as to the inmates of the Anamosa Reformatory, Bibles to Montana Indians, aid to students from abroad studying at the seminary. The Gospel has been spread by airplane in Mexico, dog-sled in Alaska, and through newspapers in India with the aid of the benevolence offerings of the seminary.

At the right, in the act of electing the above officers, are Floyd Cripps, Milt Beeman, Ken DeWall, and David Nicholas.

organized in 1948 to help seminary wives with information which will help them to become better minister's wives, meets monthly through the school year. In lectures by professors and their wives, in discussions and informal gatherings, and in individual study these women became better prepared for their role in the Christian ministry.

Highlights of the year were the programs by Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Mihelic on their work in Austria, Mrs. J. Ried Graham in missions in India, and the Christmas meeting held at the Bergers. The Wartburg "Seminettes" visited at mid-year, and the annual spring "Wives' Days", with worship, study, and fellowship culminated the year.

Never able to stay away from a kitchen, the above wives find that dirty dishes are a basic part of even a pastor's life.

Mrs. Wesley Snadgrass president, presents the Bergers with a gift from the Parsonettes at the mid-year reception.

Publications

In its constitution, the Brotherhood declares and affirms its desire for a representative publication. Intermittently for five years it has printed the SEMINARIAN as the official organ of the group, the chief purpose of which has been to serve as a medium of communication between students, faculty, alumni and other seminaries.

The editorial board in session—examining pictures for use in the winter issue of the SEMINARIAN.

To implement and effect the publication not only of the SEMINARIAN, but also the seminary section of the KEY, an editorial board was established which is made up of representatives of the three classes, and which is governed by the senior members, who act as editor-in-chief, and co-editors of the two areas. At least two issues of the SEMINARIAN are printed each year, containing articles by students, faculty, and alumni.

Indicating careful deliberation of articles and pictures is the staff of the SEMINARIAN: Jack Pereboom, Richard Voigt, George French, Deon Redshaw—Ed.-in-chief, John Peck, Wes Snodgrass.

Seeking to make the seminary section of the KEY more inclusive of the total life of the student, plans were begun earlier in the fall for a longer section. Shown on the right are Gerald Johnson and Noel DeKolb, who, with Vern Kiel and Bill Stocy, made up the KEY staff.

The Choir

The seminary choir, started in 1957-58, is a group of men who wish to serve the theological seminary and worship God through the medium of sacred song. The choir is entirely voluntary; practicing during the noon hour on school days, singing for chapel and special services, and touring the Middle-west between semesters.

The Seminary Honors Dr. & Mrs. David I. Berger

Having completed some thirty years in the ministry and in the field of theological education, Dr. Berger preached his farewell sermon at mid-year, leaving in the minds of students and faculty alike his challenge to serve the Church of Jesus Christ faithfully and unreservedly. For his own faithful and devoted service this page is dedicated as a tribute to one who, with his wife, has done so much for the Seminary and the University. The best wishes of all the Dubuque family go with them.

The Bergers were honored at several receptions, one by the Brotherhood and Parsonettes, another by the University. After moving into their new home in Dubuque, Dr. and Mrs. Berger are spending their time traveling and visiting their many friends.

At the student reception are pictured Mr. and Mrs. William Denny exchanging greetings and best wishes with the Bergers while Wayne Hoffman looks on.

Acknowledgements

Acknowledgements should be given to Artmaster and their salesman Frank Parrish for their interest and patient co-operation throughout the time our KEY was being published.

Gratitude must also be expressed to Mould Studio, student and royalty photographers, and John Cox who took most of the other photographs. Additional assistance was also received from the Telegraph Herald.

Thanks should also be given to Mr. James Batt who served as our advisor as well as to the Publications Committee who helped the KEY with their suggestions and advice.

Our 1960 KEY ends here and with it go our best regards to our graduates. As they go forward into the world may they never forget their life here on the campus of the University of Dubuque.

"The motions of today... the memories of tomorrow."

Sincerely,

Donna Jones
